MAKE A STATEMENT AT THE ENTRANCE

WHEN SELECTING A DOORKNOB

Although all the doorknobs available in the Haute Deco range are handsome works of art, do remember to carefully pick which ones would fit the type of door you have best. Better yet, take a step back and look at the theme of your interior and pick out something that harmoniously synchronises the story of your home which will begin for visitors with your doorknob prior to entry. This allows the doorknob to be a lustrous entry point for any guest as well as your fellow inhabitants!

TEXT BY KENNETH THEXEIRA

New homeowners are an eager bunch, often in a scramble to turn their conceptualisation of a dream home into reality. In the midst of all the haste when it comes to expertly picking the right furnishings or making the most of storage space, many tend to overlook the finishing touch to their décor: the door handle. It is a portion of the home that should not go untouched and left to normalcy, and we have appropriate leverage to support our stance.

Haute Déco, a specialist luxury contemporary door handle company, creates said niche products with exceptional quality and undying beauty. Led by Creative Director Marie-Veronique Swannell, Haute Déco celebrates its 20th Anniversary as the premier brand of the door-handle industry by launching their astounding Lace Collection.

Inspired by fashion trends, the Lace Collection features delicate lace motifs fused with an Art Décor flavour, resulting in a contemporary style that reflects Swannell's own brand of timeless elegance. Ranging from pretty floral to abstract contemporary patterns, the Lace Collection's selection can be casted in various formats, extending to lever handles, cabinet knobs and plate handles.

Meticulously hand crafted by only the finest artisans, the Lace Collection embodies the spirit of Haute Déco, a triumphant union of couture and interior doused in enormous style to create stunning artistic handles. Nevermore should handles be an afterthought, with Haute Déco, they are the definitive finishing touch to anyone's home due to its growing status as door jewellery. With a high level of durability, the Haute Déco brand can be described as timeless all the more.
