Introducing luxury brand Haute Déco

By Marie Carter • Posted in Style inspiration

Haute Déco, the luxury door-handle company is on-trend with a family of stone-effect handles, a selection of knobs and lever handles in pumice, sand-stone and other stone effects.

Haute Déco is a specialist luxury contemporary door handle company, creating artistic, statement led door handles for prime residential homes. The company prides itself on being at the fore-front of door-handle design and breathes individuality, fashion and luxury into each handle created. Haute Déco is renowned for door-handles exuding individual style, understated glamour and effortless elegance.

Founder and creative director Marie-Véronique Swannell oversees the design side in a contemporary style that reflects her own sense of timeless elegance. She is constantly on the look-out for arresting textures as inspiration for her next collection of handles.

Having established its own production site in Hampshire, Haute Déco has perfected numerous proprietary processes and built an impressive portfolio of colours and finishes. Unique know-hows harnessing the potential of polyester
